Every move in the geometry is marked. For instance, the end of the vertical blade concealing steps down to the sculpture terrace is reflected in a thickening of the parapet string above. And at an even greater magnification, the finish of the sun-catching white lias stone also registers changes in direction, with tooled ashlar giving way to unworked stone.

Getting There

Compton Verney is situated 7 miles east of Stratford-upon-Avon on the B4086 between Wellesbourne and Kineton and is 10 minutes drive from the M40, Junction 15.

They have yellow AA road signs in place. When following these to Compton Verney please note that these do not direct people through the villages of Ettington and Kineton although these are the most direct routes.

They have a large car park, for which there is no charge. There are cycle racks in the car park.
